EDITION 340 – TUESDAY, 25 OCTOBER 2022

MATT, ROHAN AND JOHN FINALS BOUND

Matt Lake, Rohan Marshall and John Lloyd have booked their place in the final of the Major Triples defeating Marko Popovic (substitute for Monica Smith), Stuart Smith and Vic Solway in a semi-final last Saturday.

Matt, Rohan and John will play Carole Boardman, Glenn Boardman and Peter Zucconi in the final.

Statistics:

Team	M Lake-R Marshall-J Lloyd	M Popovic-S Smith-V Solway
Points	24	11
Ends	15	9
1 point end	8	7
2-point end	5	2
3-point end	2	-

EXCITING COME FROM BEHIND WIN IN MAJOR FOURS

Brian Paxton, Maureen Terrey, Peter Zucconi and Rex Johnston, in the 1st quarter final of the Major Fours, were a little behind the ‘8 ball’ trailing 15:22 after 20 ends against Mark Burrough, John Bowring, Chris Sinclair and Sarah Hobson.

Then, as good competition tends to drive a match, in great combination Team Johnston strung together 4 unasswerved ends to go to a 2 point lead after the penultimate end. Maureen’s drawing and Rex’s saves stamped the comeback.

A gripping last end beckoned and onlookers were not denied a great finish to an even match. Maureen holds shot some 8 inches to the right of and slightly behind jack. Chris delivers a great drive to remove the shot bowl and his team is now in contention for the extra 2 shots required for victory. Victory was eluded, however, as Team Johnston prevailed over Team Hobson 24:23 in a thriller.

The winners play Lena Manu, David Hillerman, Mal Knight and John Lloyd in the 1st semi-final.

Statistics:

Team	B Paxton-M Terrey- P Zucconi-R Johnston	M Burrough-J Bowring- C Sinclair-S Hobson
Points	24	23

MAUREEN STEERS TEAM TO VICTORY IN MAJOR FOURS SEMI-FINAL

Maureen Cosby had a pearler of a match as she steered the highly successful Pennant combination of some years back in Greg Moon, Andrew Gordon and Robert Campbell to a decisive victory over Ole Hostrup, Kay Mulhall, Scott Bonthron and Kevin Mulhall in the first semi-final of the Major Fours competition thus being first to book their place in the final.

Winning 12 of the first 16 ends Team Campbell was always in the box seat and whenever Team Mulhall looked like getting back into the match Robert always had the bowl to stymie such aspirations.

Statistics:

Team	M Cosby-G Moon- A Gordon-R Campbell	O Hostrup-Kay Mulhall- S Bonthron - K Mulhall
Points	27	18
Ends	16	9

2022 NATIONAL BOWLS WRAP UP

BY BILLY JOHNSON

What a fortnight it has been for our New South Wales bowlers at the 2022 Nationals! Starting with the KENO NSW Para-Blues back in late September right through to the Australian Championships in mid-October, the New South Wales representatives finished with a staggering NINETEEN medals across all events.

Equally as impressive is that medals were won in five of the six major events at the Nationals – the Multi-Disability Championships, the Australian Champion of Champions, the Australian U18 Championships, the Australian Sides Championships and the Australian Championships.

Players, teams and sides finishing with medals from the 2022 Nationals-

THE BIRTH AND EVOLUTION OF LANE COVE BOWLING AND RECREATION CLUB

The Lane Cove Bowling and Recreation Club celebrates its 70th Anniversary in 2022.

The Lane Cove Bowling and Recreation Club was established in 1952 as Lane Cove West Bowling Club. At that time, it was one of 5 bowling clubs in Lane Cove including a Women's' bowling club.

However, the enormous changes to the society since then have seen the demise of all the others and it is now the only competitive bowls club left in Lane Cove. In 2008 the club dropped the West in the name and became Lane Cove Bowling and Recreation Club.

In 1951 a relatively young chap named Phillip Smyth decided to take on the time-honoured sport of lawn bowls. He applied for membership of the Lane Cove Bowling Club, but they had, what seemed, an endless waiting list. Not deterred he decided to investigate the possibility of establishing a bowling club in Lane Cove West.

After checking with local residents Phil found many not only thought a bowling club was desirable it was necessary. And so, after such an enthusiastic response a meeting was held in the Presbyterian Hall in Figtree Street on 17 July 1952 attended by 75 people (men only at the time) where it was decided to form a Bowling Club.

The Club was constituted on 30 October 1952. The Foundation President was Frederick "Stan" Hendy.

The newly formed Lane Cove West Bowling Club's evolution was now well on the way. The Club was constituted on 30 October 1952 at a General Meeting held in the School of Arts building in Longueville Road, Lane Cove and the foundation office bearers were duly elected. The Club had 139 members on the books of which only 36 had paid their subscribed fee.

Funds were tight in the early years and prior to occupying our present building in 1962 the Club operated from "The Old Tin Shed" an Econo-hut purchased for 2,037 pounds. After much hard work by dedicated members in the construction of this prefabricated building the first Annual General Meeting in the Club's new premises was held in November 1954.

In 1960 Lane Cove Council agreed to the Club building a new clubhouse on our present site in Burns Bay Road, Lane Cove West.

With Club savings, a bank overdraft and member guarantees plus a Bill of Sale over the Club's property covering the Bank's lending criteria a new Clubhouse was completed and opened in April 1964 at a cost of 43,614 pounds.

The Club also purchased two parcels of land in 1959 and 1960 for 600 pounds and 1,024 pounds respectively, adjacent to green 3.

The Club's first green was commenced in 1954 and opened in 1955. A second green was opened in 1956 and through a council loan of $14,000 a third green was laid in 1965.

The Club was incorporated on 24 September 1989 and the inaugural Board of Directors, under the Chairmanship of Roy Wark, was elected at the Annual General Meeting.

"Hard work spotlights the character of people: some turn up their sleeves, some turn up their noses, and some don't turn up at all."

AUSSIE DESTINATIONS - Woodburn, NSW

Town on the banks of the Richmond River.

Woodburn is a small township on the banks of the Richmond River. It was once an important river port but today it is well known to regular travellers on the Highway as a junction town, with roads leading from Woodburn to Evans Head in the east, Broadwater and Ballina in the north, and Coraki, Casino and Lismore to the west. The river has always been an important part of life in Woodburn. Today, the income associated with the town's position on one of Australia's major highways is important to the local economy, as are the fields of sugar cane surrounding the town.

Location

Woodburn is located on the Richmond River 715 km north of Sydney on the Pacific Highway.

Origin of Name

The local Bundjalung Aborigines knew this section of the Richmond River as 'maniworkan'. When cedar cutters arrived in the district they called it Rocky Mouth, an accurate, if unimaginative, description. When the settlement reached a sufficient size to have a post office it was realised that there was another Rocky Mouth in New South Wales and so the name was changed to Woodburn by William Gollan, the town's first postmaster. The name became official in 1896.

Population 739 (2016 census)

New Italy Museum

The New Italy Museum Complex is a celebration of a unique chapter in the nation's immigration story. It is a little-known tale of courage, daring, hardship and ultimately the reward of settling and prospering in a new land. Told on a series of three murals at the complex: "The New Italy story began in 1880 when farming families from Veneto in Northern Italy (it lies to the west of Venice) were beguiled by the Marquis de Rays to purchase land and homes in the phantom paradise of La Nouvelle France

(on New Ireland in the Bismarck Archipelago to the north-east of Papua New Guinea) ... The expedition arrived at Port Breton in October. The voyage took three months and conditions were so shocking that nearly 100 died and were buried at sea. The rest were confronted by deprivation, no shelter from the torrential rain and meagre supplies. The next 4 months saw terrible suffering, illness, starvation and many more deaths. In desperation the half-disabled 'India' set sail for Australia. Needing food, the ship put in at Noumea, where the authorities impounded the vessel due to its un-seaworthiness. The English Consul contacted Sir Henry Parkes who sent the steamer 'James Patterson' to rescue the contingent. On Friday 8 April 1881, 217 of the original 340 emigrants arrived in Sydney, destitute and in poor health ... These survivors founded the settlement now called New Italy. They were capable colonists and thrived on the barren land. Building homes, digging wells, growing diverse crops and fruit trees, raising cattle and sheep, cutting railway sleepers and producing wine, cheese and salami. By 1888 the thriving community had a school, post office, church and two wine shops, a lucrative silk production called Sericulture and even a bicycle shop."

The New Italy complex was opened by the Italian Consul General in 1989 It contains a museum with fascinating memorabilia; the 'Osteria Veneta' - a mud-brick and timber replica of an original New Italy homestead which houses a licensed Australian and Italian restaurant; a replica of Michelangelo's David; an Italian Pavilion which records the history of Italy and Italian migration to Australia.

Broadwater National Park

Broadwater National Park covers 4,245 ha of coastal heath and wetlands including 8 km of beach frontage. It contains many large sand dunes and swale gullies that were formed 60,000 years ago. Some of the sand ridges formed by wind-blown sands are over 30m above sea level. Covered largely by coastal heath, eucalypt forests and wetlands, the park is particularly impressive in springtime when Christmas bells, golden bush peas, swamp lilies and sun orchards mingle with other spring wildflowers and the bush is ablaze with pinks, yellows, white and blues. There are many bird species in the park particularly the ibis, sea eagles, pied oyster catchers and terns which can be found on the beach and the ring tail possums, red-necked wallabies, echidnas, bandicoots, possums and bush rats.

History

* In the 1840s cedar cutters moved into the district. This prompted considerable activity with a local timber merchant, Billy Wright, building a number of large vessels to ship produce up and down the Richmond River. These vessels arrived in the district in the early 1850s and ports - Wardell, Broadwater, Coraki - grew along the river.

* By the early 1860s a settlement was beginning to form around the port at the present site of Woodburn. William Cravigan, who took up land on the northern river bank in 1863, is credited with being the town's first settler.

* Other people settled near Cravigan and by 1868 there were enough people to justify the establishment of both a post office and general store. In the next decade more shops and a pub were built and by 1879 the town had its first policeman.

* In 1869 the town was officially gazetted.

* It wasn't until the late 1860s that the town spread south across the river.

* In 1869 a Presbyterian Church was built on the southern bank and the following year a school was erected.

* A post office was opened in 1883.

* In 1884 a Court House was opened and in 1885 Woodburn was proclaimed a village.

* By the 1870s the district had become an important sugar growing area.

* In 1882 Italians from Veneto in Northern Italy settled near Woodburn.

* In 1935, in an attempt to beautify the town, 18 phoenix canariensis palms were planted in Woodburn Street.

* On 7 April, 1945 the town was ravaged by a cyclone which destroyed both the Empire and Richmond Hotels, the Catholic Church, the School of Arts and the Rowing Club.

1. "Life was not meant to be easy" is a famous quote from the then future Prime Minister Malcolm Fraser. From which well-known author did he paraphrase the quotation?

2. Sir Henry Bolte was a state premier for many years, and seemed to enjoy making outrageously provocative statements. Some of his 'classics' include "We care about water pollution; it just isn't as important as a $100 million factory", or, in regards to a teacher's strike, "They can strike till they are black in the face. It won't make any difference!" Which Australian state did he lead, from 1955 to 1972?

3 This very famous line was uttered during the 1987 election campaign. The line, "No child will live in poverty by the year 1990.", would haunt this man for the rest of his career. Who said it?

4. This man created controversy in 1994 when he parodied his Liberal Party's policy slogan, "The Things That Matter". He jokingly referred to their domestic violence policy as "the things that batter", the family policy became "the flings that matter" and the policy on marginal seats, "the swings that matter". Who is this man?

5. Considered the most genial Australian Prime Minister of the 20th century, which PM was often portrayed in the press as a happy koala?

Answers: 1 George Bernard Shaw. 2 Victoria. 3 Bob Hawke. 4 Alexander Downer. 5 Joseph Lyons.

Riddle: What are the next three letters in this combination? OTTFSS (Answer page18)

1943 PHANTOM OF THE OPERA 1943

One of the most popular stories of all time, Gaston Leroux's Phantom of the Opera is the legendary horror tale starring Claude Rains as the masked phantom of the Paris Opera House. Following a tragic accident that leaves him disfigured, crazed composer Eriquer Claudin transforms into a masked phantom who schemes to make beautiful young soprano Christine DuBois (Susanna Foster) the star of the opera and wreak revenge on those who stole his music. A heroic baritone (Nelson Eddy) tries to win the affections of Christine as he tracks down the disfigured "monster" who has begun murdering those who resist his mad demands. Inspired by the original 1925 silent version, this lavish Technicolor production remains one of the most unforgettable adaptations ever to be filmed.

Enrique Claudin: I have written a concerto. Now, will you trust me if I can arrange to have it published?

Signor Ferretti: Every violinist has written a concerto! Come, come, my dear Claudin.

Enrique Claudin: But I have faith in this one. As much faith as I had in Mademoiselle Dubois when I came to you three years ago.

Cast: Nelson Eddy (Anatole Garron) Claude Rains (Enrique Claudin/The Phantom of the Opera) Susanna Foster (Christine DuBois) Edgar Barrier (Raoul Dubert) Director: Arthur Lubin

JOKE OF THE WEEK A father put his 3-year-old daughter to bed...

...told her a story and listened to her prayers which ended by saying, "God bless Mommy, God bless Daddy, God bless Grandma and good-bye Grandpa." The father asked, "Why did you say good-bye Grandpa?" The little girl said, "I don't know daddy, it just seemed like the thing to do." The next day grandpa died. The father thought it was a strange coincidence.

A few months later the father put the girl to bed and listened to her prayers, "God bless Mommy, God Bless Daddy and good- bye Grandma." The next day the grandmother died. "Holy crap" thought the father, "this kid is in contact with the other side."

Several weeks later when the girl was going to bed the dad heard her say, "God bless Mommy and good-bye Daddy." He practically went into shock. He couldn't sleep all night and got up at the crack of dawn to go to his office. He was nervous as a cat all day, had lunch and watched the clock. He figured if he could get by until midnight he would be okay. He felt safe in the office, so instead of going home at the end of the day he stayed there, drinking coffee, looking at his watch and jumping at every sound. Finally, midnight arrived; he breathed a sigh of relief and went home.

When he got home his wife said, "I've never seen you work so late. What's the matter?" He said, "I don't want to talk about it, I just had the worst day of my life." She said, "You think you had a bad day? You'll never believe what happened to me. This morning my boss dropped dead in the middle of a meeting!"

Riddle: E N T (Each letter represents the first letter in the written numbers: One, Two, Three, Four, Five, etc.).

TICKLES CORNER

WORD OF THE WEEK: OBSOLAGNIUM (noun) Waning sexual desire due to age.

IDIOM OF THE WEEK: Throw a spanner in the works: create an obstacle that makes something more difficult

QUOTE OF THE WEEK: Good breeding consists in concealing how much we think of ourselves and how little we think of the other person. - Mark Twain

PRINCIPLE OF THE WEEK: Citizenship - Behaving in a responsible manner as a citizen of a community
