EDITION 359 – TUESDAY, 07 MARCH 2023

BOWLS NSW BOUNDARIES

The Bowls NSW Boundary Working Party has been formed with the primary purpose of working on the alignment of Zone, District and Regional boundaries. At the Strategic Forum held in 2022, Zone and District representatives highlighted boundary alignment as a major focus point that needed to be addressed. Bowls NSW has listened to the comments provided by our Zone and District representatives and formed a Boundary Working Party to undertake this important process.

As a unified association, Bowls NSW is eager to have the Boundary Working Party consult with Zones, Districts and other key stakeholders to identify and address the key areas of concern relating to boundary alignment.

LANE COVE SIXERS NARROWLY MISS

It was only in the last third of the game that Lane Cove relinquished the lead in round two against North Sydney. In this segment North Sydney outpointed Lane Cove 26 points to 15 points. North Sydney won the day 56:52 with both sides winning a rink each and drawing the other.

Marko Popovic, an eleventh-hour substitute for Greg Moon, had solid skip’s game ably supported by Mark Burrough (lead), Vic Solway (2nd) and Mal Knight (3rd). They were always in front on the scoreboard for a 2 point 15:13 victory.

Jenny Moran stepped up for the first time this year in second position for David Madson with Glenn Boardman (lead) and Brian Paxton (3rd). She had a great game more often than not keeping her team in contention and helping them to draw 19:19 after being 5 shots in arrears with 2 ends remaining.

Skip, Ray Moran, had a tougher assignment against his opponents, however, showed true grit in coming from behind 5:12 to level the scores at 16 after 16 ends. On end 20 they were holding 3 shots which would have tied up the ‘big board’ until opposing skip jettisoned the jack to take shot. Robert Campbell has a solid game. Simon Kinsman played lead with David Erskine at 2nd.

OZ DESTINATIONS – Urbenville, NSW

Quiet town near the NSW-Queensland border surrounded by impressive parks and waterfalls.

There is something wonderfully dramatic about a small, sleepy town which has a dark and forbidding mountain hovering above it. Urbenville, which is only 25 km from the Queensland border, is dominated by Crown Mountain, one of the many volcanic plugs in the area. Other plugs are Edinburgh Castle and The Beehive.

The appeal of the district lies not in the town but in the geology, fauna and flora in this glorious unspoilt part of far northern New South Wales. The forests around Urbenville have become a popular destination for 4WD enthusiasts and, with this in mind, the National Parks and Wildlife Service have a large board in the main street with details of how to access the major natural sites of interest. People visit Urbenville to enjoy the fishing, to camp along the rivers and streams, to bushwalk, go bird watching and admire the scenery.

Location

Urbenville, which is 366m above sea level, is located 154 km south-west of Brisbane, 25 km south of the NSW-Queensland border, 797 km north of Sydney via the New England Highway and 820 km via the Pacific Highway.

Origin of Name

Originally known as Tooloom, this village was renamed Urbenville after William Urben who was the first white child born at the Tooloom gold diggings.

Pioneer Cottage and Historical Museum

The Pioneer Cottage and Historical Museum, located in Urben Street, was originally built in the town of Legume in 1892. It was constructed of hoop pine for the Lamb family and was relocated to its present site in 1977. The building, which has been restored, is characterised by a high-hipped roof, a bullnose veranda and external timber battens. The museum includes historical displays relating to the town, the district and the timber industry.

Beaury State Forest and Tooloom Lookout

Beyond Tooloom Falls the road to Legume passes another volcanic plug known as The Beehive and about 25 km along the winding road the traveller reaches the Tooloom Rest Area where it is possible to enjoy a 500m walk through the forest.

Tooloom Falls

Tooloom Falls are located 6 km south-west of Urbenville. Head out of town on the Legume Road. The falls which are 10 metres high and 60 metres wide are a pleasant place for swimming and ideal for a picnic or barbecue. They were important to the Gidabal and Wurlabal people and were declared a significant Aboriginal Place in 1977. There is a wonderful story about the falls. The word 'Dooloom' means lice in the Gidabal language and it was applied to the falls so that the children would not swim there. The fear of lice were probably a ruse because the Gidabal believed that the falls and the water hole were haunted by dangerous spirits. There is a plaque at the falls which explains the myth. It also tells the story of Dirrangun the Witch who is also associated with the falls.

State Forest and Bean Creek Falls

One of the highlights of the area is the drive through the Yabbra State Forest which has some of the most beautiful eucalypt scenery, combined with the glorious sounds of bellbirds ringing in the canopy, that you will find anywhere on the north coast.

North Yabbra Forest Loop Road

On the unsealed Boomi Creek Road you will pass both the Yabbra Flora Reserve and another of the area's volcanic plugs which is named Edinburgh Castle.

History

* The township came into existence in the 1860s when a rich alluvial goldfield was discovered at Taloom. At its height the goldfield attracted some 2,500 miners. The alluvial gold ran out quickly and reef mining was commenced by the Peel River Land Mining Co. As a result, a more formal township was established. The goldfields continued to be productive until the 1890s.

* Today the district is dominated by dairying, cattle raising, some timber cutting and milling and tourism focused on 4WD exploring.

JOKE OF THE WEEK. A plane was taking off from Kennedy Airport.

After it reached a comfortable cruising altitude, the captain made an announcement over the intercom,

“Ladies and gentlemen, this is your captain speaking. Welcome to Flight number 293, non-stop from New York to Los Angeles. The weather ahead is good and, therefore, we should have a smooth and uneventful flight. Now sit back and relax... OH, MY GOD!”

Silence followed, and after a few minutes, the captain came back on the intercom and said,

“Ladies and Gentlemen, I am so sorry if I scared you earlier. While I was talking to you, the flight attendant accidentally spilt a cup of hot coffee in my lap. You should see the front of my pants!”

A passenger who is an old man in Business class yelled,

“That’s nothing. You should see the back of mine!”

Doris, do you think that size matters?

Of course, Mabel! No one wants a small glass of wine.

TICKLES CORNER

"... and then I just hit delete!"

Billy

"My senior relatives liked to tease me at weddings, saying things like, "You'll be next!" They stopped once I started doing the same to them at funerals."

Air Travel Attire

Nowadays, most of us slap on a tracksuit with socks and hurry out the door to go through the long pre-flight process that we've all become accustomed to. However, before air travel was standard—during the golden age of commercial aviation, people dressed to the nines for their travel.

Taking a flight was a big deal and was viewed as a luxury. The glitz and glamour were a part of the experience, with air hostesses, well-stocked bar carts, and meals served on fine China.

Flying in the 1970s

The airline industry has evolved so much over the years. For one, air hostesses are now usually referred to as flight attendants. Flight attendants' age restrictions have also been modified, and policies that prohibited marriage and pregnancies have largely disappeared.

In the early 1970s, Airlines' female air hostesses wore hot pants and go-go boots as part of their uniform, something that probably wouldn't fly today (pun intended). At the time, the airline also served drinks with suggestive names like "Love Potion" and "Passion Punch."

OLDER AUSTRALIANS ENCOURAGED TO ROLL BACK THE CLOCK

Lane Cove Bowling and Recreation Club is taking a step towards curbing low physical activity rates among older Australians by encouraging them to "roll back the clock" through lawn bowls.

Roll Back the Clock is a Bowls Australia initiative, in partnership with Sport Australia, that aims to boost physical activity rates among Australians aged 65 and over through bowls, light exercise and education.

Presently, as little as 25-percent of Australians over-65 meet the Department of Health's physical activity guidelines of 30 minutes of activity per day.

Health-related reasons, including physical and mental health, are the main barriers for older Australians participating in sport or physical activities and bowls is seen as a low-impact, socially-inclusive activity that can be enjoyed by individuals of all ages.

Roll Back The Clock programs incorporate a two-part activity lasting 30 minutes each, targeting both the body and mind through bowls, functional training, fitness and wellness education, and socialisation.

Sessions are adapted for individuals, with benefits ranging from enabling participants to perform activities of daily life more easily, to withstanding injuries and providing a sense of accomplishment and achievement.

In addition to the physical health benefits, engaging in physical activity and group sports for older Australians provides increasingly important opportunities for socialisation, peer-support, and conversation that reduces the possibility for loneliness related physical and mental illnesses.

Roll Back The Clock will be staged regularly at Lane Cove Bowling and Recreation Club, over 4 weeks, commencing 7 March 2023. Cost: $40

🕒 The program will run from 2:00pm – 3:00pm on Tuesdays and combines exercise, wellness education, socialisation and little bit of bowls.
