EDITION 344 – TUESDAY, 22 NOVEMBER 2022

LANE COVE CONCERT BAND At Lane Cove Bowling Club

2-6 PM SUNDAY 27TH NOVEMBER

MAJOR FOURS FINALIST’S FOUND

Chris Sinclair (substitute for Brian Paxton), Maureen Terrey, Peter Zucconi and Rex Johnston qualified for the final of the Major Fours with a strong victory against Jeanette Lloyd (substitute for Lena Manu), David Lloyd (substitute for Mal Knight), David Hillerman and John Lloyd on Sunday.

There was not a lot in the early exchanges as Team Johnston led 9:8 after 9 ends with Team Lloyd winning 5 of those ends.

Crash - the turning point on end 10, when Team Johnston posted a 6 pointer to skip away to a 15:8 lead and then holding their opponents to 4 shots whilst accumulating 14 shots of their own to win comprehensively 29:12.

On their way to the final Team Johnston had a close call in the quarter finals scoring a 1-point win before today’s semi-final win.

The opponents in the final will be Maureen Cosby, Greg Moon, Andrew Gordon and Robert Campbell who have been in scintillating form winning their quarter final 27:18 before dominating last year’s winners of the event two weeks ago in a semi-final.

MIXED PAIRS ROLLED OFF LAST SATURDAY

The Mixed Pairs got off to a rollicking start last Saturday with two of four first round matches played.

In the first match Monica Smith and Vic Solway did not let their opponents, Kathy Heezen and Peter Zucconi into the match forging a big lead of 30:9 after 17 ends grassing mats the last time for a 32:14 victory.

Monica and Vic will play Meredith Collum and Steve Brouggy in the second quarter final.

JACKAROOS END SERIES ON A HIGH AGAINST IRELAND

BY VAL FEBBO (BOWLS AUSTRALIA)

The Right at Home Jackaroos have ended the three-test series against Ireland on a brilliant note, capping off a whitewash against the visitors at Club Musgrave on the Gold Coast last week.

After claiming the first test and honours in the opening half of the second on day one, Australia kept the foot on the accelerator in the first session on day two as they wrapped up the second and third tests.

The women would sustain just one blemish throughout the series, while the men were forced to dig deep against a resilient Irish squad.

That was evident in the morning as the visiting duo of Ryan McElroy and Stephen Kirkwood claimed a stunning 17-14 men's pairs victory over Aaron Teys and Aaron Wilson.

Australia would continue the form as the third test commenced, with the two women's fours games boasting winning margins of 17 and 13 respectively, but the men's contests were a different story.

The Jackaroos would win three of the five matchups in the opening session of the final test, with Andy Kyle and Simon Martin overcoming Matt Lucas and Carl Healey 18-11 before the foursome of McElroy, Kirkwood, Shane Leonard and Mark Wilson defeated Corey Wedlock, Jesse Noronha, Cody Packer and Wilson 21-11 in the fours.

Barrie Lester and Aron Sherriff were able to hold off a strong challenge mounted by Stuart Bennett and Jack Moffett as the pair held on for a crucial 20-19 victory in the second men's pairs match of the middle session, ensuring Australia would boast the lead heading at the half way mark of the test.

In the concluding session the men would boast three victories from as many games to seal the test, while Megan Devlin, Amy Carruth and Chloe Wilson would take Ireland's first victory in the women's competition with an epic 18-17 triples win over Jamie-Lee Worsnop, Natasha Van Eldik and Dawn Hayman

SKY RACING FEES TO BE WAIVED IN CLUBS AND PUBS

In an effort to remain competitive against rival corporate bookmakers, Tabcorp has announced it will offer clubs and pubs free access to its Sky Racing channel.

Tabcorp currently charges an annual fee of approximately $12,000 to almost 4,900 venues across Australia for streaming of the Sky Racing channel, and its televised thoroughbred, harness and greyhound racing.

With many high-profile races being broadcast on free-to-air channels, some venues have questioned the value of the Sky Racing channel, leading to its decision to nix the fees for pubs in the ACT, Queensland and Tasmania by December.

Tabcorp, while still Australia's largest gambling company, has seen increased competition from online bookmakers, including Ladbrokes and Sportsbet. Tabcorp has been historically disadvantaged by taxation, paying double that of its corporate rivals in states with a low point of consumption tax. However, with the Governments of some states now acknowledging the increasing prominence of online bookmakers, and lifting their point of consumption taxes accordingly, Tabcorp is likely to reap benefits.

While the move to waive fees will cost Tabcorp as much as $50 million in revenue, this will be offset by the win on taxes. Analysts predict that Tabcorp will benefit as much as $30 million annually in Queensland alone, due to the more equitable system. The rollout of a reduction in fees across the rest of the country will see a 25 per cent reduction to Sky Racing subscriptions from 1 January, increasing to 50 per cent by mid-2023, before being waived entirely by July 2024.

AUSSIE DESTINATIONS – Bundarra, NSW

Small service town on Thunderbolt Highway.

Bundarra is a tiny rural settlement on the Thunderbolt Highway between Armidale and Inverell. It is one of those towns that is easy to pass through without really noticing that it has some interesting historic buildings and that Copeton Dam, which is 43 km away, is a magnet during the summer months. For bird lovers the region is home to the critically endangered Regent Honeyeater which can be found in the ironbark trees in the district.

Location

Bundarra is located 582 km north of Sydney and 378 km south-west of Brisbane on the road between Armidale (88 km to the south-east) and Inverell (44 km to the north). It is 700 metres above sea level.

Origin of Name

Bundarra is a Kamilaroi word for the grey kangaroo.

Police Station and Court House

The most interesting historic buildings in town are the police station and residence (c. 1879) with a stables/garage. It features a stone-flagged veranda, a hipped roof and flat brick arches over the window heads. It is listed on the Register of the National Estate.

Court House

There is a museum in the Court House. It houses an interesting display of local memorabilia and the surrounding complex now includes the Mount Drummond School which has been moved to the site. It has been furnished in the style of an old school room and contains an interesting photographic display of the local area.

Bottle Museum

Known as the Gallery of Glass and located at 18 Bendemeer Street, this former Baptist church now has a collection of over 6,000 bottles as well as Aboriginal pipes and artefacts. The church was built in 1959.

Commercial Hotel

Located at 16 Bendemeer Street and built in 1861, the Commercial Hotel is heritage listed. It was once visited by Captain Thunderbolt. In recent times it has been upgraded and today it offers pub meals and accommodation.

Gwydir River

The Gwydir River is a noted breeding ground for freshwater fish species such as cod, redfin, yellow belly, catfish, silver perch and bass. It is also possible to see platypus in the river particularly around dawn and dusk.

Copeton Dam

Located 43 km to the north-west of town is Copeton Dam and Copeton Waters State Park, the 900-ha recreational and adventure playground. There are camp and caravan sites, a kiosk and general store, an amenities block, cabins, fuel sales, boat hire, a six-hole golf course, tennis courts, sailing, windsurfing, power boating, water skiing, fishing (for cod, yellowbelly, silver perch, catfish and redfin), walking tracks, two adventure playgrounds, waterslides and plenty of wildlife. The Gwydir River runs between the lake and Bundarra where it passes right through the town. It is a popular fishing destination.

Rumbling Mountain (George's Mount)

East of Bundarra (although it is 115 km by road) is a rocky scrub-covered hill that occasionally rumbles. The Kamilaroi Aboriginal people have a legend that a Kamilaroi elder fought a huge kangaroo in a battle that lasted for a very long time. Finally, they became tired and rested for a time of many months and then restarted the battle. The rumbling is the angry voice of the tribal elder and the thumping and shaking is caused by the kangaroo beating his massive tail on the ground.

Mount Yarrowyck Nature Reserve and Rock Art Site

Along Thunderbolt's Way is the Nature Reserve created in 1983. It is 589 ha. One of the highlights of a 3 km loop walk to an Aboriginal rock art site in a small shelter on the south-western slopes of Mt Yarrowyck. On a rock surface are some red ochre paintings which are dominated by bird track motifs. There are also stick figures and other geometric shapes.

History

- * The explorer Alexander Cunningham passed through the district in 1827.
- * In 1836 Edward G Clerk and John Rankin took up land which he called Bundarra Station.
- * In 1837 William Smith took up land which he called Laura.
- * By the late 1830s John Cameron had taken up land which he called Lochiel. He sold the property in 1841 by which time it was known as Abington.
- * Mrs Clerk established a hotel and store.
- * The town was surveyed in the 1850s.
- * In May 1868 the bushranger known as Thunderbolt (Fred Ward) stole two quality horses from the stables at Abington station, near Bundarra. They belonged to police inspector Brown and a trooper who were then staying at the station.
- * The first church was built in 1857.

- * By the 1860s the town had two police officers.
- * In the 1870s Bundarra became a staging post for Cobb & Co.
- * Around 1879 the Court House and Police Station were built.
- * In 1881 the Bundarra Bridge across the Gwydir River was opened.
- * A hospital was opened in the town in 1911.

- * The Court House closed in 1967.
- * In 1978 Fred Schepisi used the town as a location in his film The Chant of Jimmie Blacksmith.
- * The Police Station operated until 1980.

DID YOU KNOW: The Big Drift: Did you know there are sand dunes only two- and a-bit hours south of Melbourne? Named the Big Drift, this extensive series of sand dunes is pretty hidden from the main tourist track. At the top, you’ll be greeted by a seemingly endless view of sand, punctuated by the occasional green treetop and ocean view. The sands are ever-changing thanks to the wind, so you can spend some time walking around the dunes and exploring the landscape.

FUN FACT: The Tulip Farm: Looking for an easy way to pretend you’re in the Netherlands without having to commit to a long-haul flight? About an hour away from Melbourne is Silvan’s famous Tulip Farm, home to almost a million blooming tulips set out across ten hectares of farmland in the Dandenong Ranges. Every year, it hosts the month-long Tesselaar Tulip Festival with live entertainment, market stalls, food offerings and themed weekend celebrations playing out around the spring blooms.

Just before the destruction of the planet Krypton, scientist Jor-El sends his infant son Kal-El on a spaceship to Earth. Raised by kindly farmers Jonathan and Martha Kent, young Clark discovers the source of his superhuman powers and moves to Metropolis to fight evil. As Superman, he battles the villainous Lex Luthor, while, as novice reporter Clark Kent, he attempts to woo co-worker Lois Lane

Superman – “Easy, miss. I’ve got you.”

Lois Lane – “You – you’ve got me? Who’s got you?”

Lois Lane – “Um, um, would you like a glass of wine?”

Superman – “Uh, no, no thanks. I never drink when I fly.”

Director: Richard Donner * Stars: Christopher Reeve (Superman) Margot Kidder (Lois Lane) Gene Hackman (Lex Luthor) Marlon Brando (Jor-El)

JOKE OF THE WEEK A woman was enjoying a good game of golf with her girlfriends: “Oh, no.” She suddenly exclaimed.

“Look at the time! I have to rush home and fix dinner for my husband. He’ll be so annoyed if it’s not ready on time.”

When she got home, she discovered all she had in the fridge was a wilted lettuce leaf, an egg and a can of cat food.

With no time to go to the supermarket, she opened the can of cat food, stirred in the egg and garnished it with the lettuce leaf.

She greeted her husband warmly when he came home, and then watched in horror as he sat down to his dinner.

To her surprise, he seemed to be enjoying it.

“Darling, this is the best dinner you’ve made me in 40 years of marriage! You can make this for me any day.”

Needless to say, every golf day from then on, the woman made her husband the same dish.

She told her golf partners about it and they were all horrified.

“You’re going to kill him!” They exclaimed.

Two months later, her husband died.

The women were sitting around the clubhouse, and one of them said.

“You killed him! We told you that feeding him cat food every week would do him in! How can you just sit there so calmly knowing you murdered your husband?”

The wife stoically replied. “I didn’t kill him. He fell off the window sill while he was licking himself!”
