EDITION 343 – TUESDAY, 15 NOVEMBER 2022

TITLEHOLDERS GO BACK-TO-BACK

John Lloyd (Skip), Rohan Marshall (2nd) and Matt Lake (Lead) scored a back-to-back victory in the Club Major Triples event last Saturday. Their gallant opponents were the relatively newbie team of Peter Zucconi (Skip), Glenn Boardman (2nd) and Carole. Their gallant opponents were Boardman (Lead).

It was a close match for the first 12 ends with Team Lloyd in the vanguard 11:8 with both teams winning 6 ends apiece. At this stage, and after the fourth race at Newcastle, Rohan audibly instructed his skip to ‘get off the phone’ and this instruction had immediate affect as they rolled in four unanswered ends to lead 18:8 at the completion of end 16.

Undaunted, Team Zucconi outscored their opposition 8:7 over the last 9 ends finally succumbing to Team Lloyd 25:16. It was low scoring game with 3 ends scoring 3 points, 10 ends 2 points and 12 ends singles.

Team Lloyd played well throughout the competition, however, it is unlikely the winning trio will prevail next year as rumour has it that Rohan will transfer to Denistone which is close to his home. A big loss for Lane Cove!

Team Zucconi did remarkably well to force their opponents all the way for a gruelling 25 ends and next year beckons!

Statistics:

Team	M Lake-R Marshall-J Lloyd	C Boardman-G Boardman-P Zucconi
Points	25	16
Ends	15	10
1 point end	7	5
2-point end	6	4
3-point end	2	1

LAST YEAR’S TITLEHOLDERS ROLLED IN FOURS SEMI-FINAL

Reputations meant nothing to Robert Campbell (Skip), Andrew Gordon (3rd), Greg Moon (2nd) and Maureen Cosby (Lead) as they steamrolled their way to a resounding victory over last year’s winners of this event in Phil Wade (Skip), Ray Moran (3rd), Jenny Moran (2nd) and David Madson (Lead) in the second semi-final of the Major Fours.

Team Campbell, with a full head of steam, put themselves in a seemingly unassailable position by leading 23:4 after 15 ends allowing their opponents only 4 single ends.

To their credit Team Wade won the next four ends posting another 7 points, however, an earth-shattering 7 pointer by Team Campbell on the last end put their opponents away for next year’s event.

Team Campbell’s excellent form throughout the competition ensures an enthralling final where they will meet either Rex Johnston (Skip), Peter Zucconi, Maureen Terry and Brian Paxton or John Lloyd (Skip), Mal Knight, David Hillerman and Lena Manu.

LANE COVE TAKE TATTS

In what was a most enjoyable day last Tuesday Lane Cove wreaked revenge for their prior meeting loss to City Tattersalls Bowling Club. Lane Cove won 129:90 winning 6, drawing 1 and losing 1 of 8 rinks played on the day. Forty-eight bowlers matched bowls on the day followed by a delightful David Erskine sausage sizzle.

MELBOURNE PULSE GO BACK-TO-BACK

The Melbourne Pulse have made history at Bowls Premier League 16 becoming the third team ever to go back-to-back following straight sets win over the Adelaide Pioneers in the grand final.

The Dandenong Club franchise ended the evening session undefeated as they joined four other teams to have claimed multiple BPL championships.

Following a tough morning where Barrie Lester, Ellen Ryan and Gary Kelly (coached by Jeremy Henry) claimed just one victory from their three encounters, the trio would enter the finals with a double chance in second spot on the table behind only the Moreton Bay Pirates.

Adelaide Pioneers defeated the Moreton Bay Pirates in the semi-final thus qualifying for their fifth BPL final. Despite their excellent performance Adelaide Pioneers remain one of the few sides not to win a BPL title.

BOWLS NSW LTD CEO APPOINTED

BY ADMIN

Bowls NSW Ltd is pleased to announce the appointment of Tim Rowe as our new CEO.

Tim steps into the CEO role at Bowls NSW with extensive experience spanning across the finance, aviation, hospitality, Government and not-for-profit sectors.

Tim is an accountant by trade and has worked across several high-profile brands in senior management positions including leading Qantas Airways' Sports and Commercial Marketing team for a number of years. Tim was also the Group Head of Partnerships at Crown Resorts where he led Commercial partnership portfolios.

Tim assisted in establishing the Indigenous Marathon Foundation (IMF) which uses sport as a vehicle to develop Indigenous leaders across Australia. He holds strong experience in brand partnerships, marketing, communications, policy development, financial reporting, philanthropy, Government engagement and stakeholder management.

Previously, Tim has been a competitive athlete himself and has represented NSW and Australia on several occasions for middle distance athletics.

Tim highlighted his excitement in taking on the CEO role and working with the New South Wales bowling community.

“I am eager to lead the team at Bowls NSW and look forward to connecting with the broader bowls community and doing everything within my power to develop and promote our sport.”

Bowls NSW Chair Dilys Kindleysides said that Tim's breadth and depth of experience made him the ideal candidate to take on the role of Bowls NSW CEO.

“We are confident that in Tim we have found someone who will lead the sport with professionalism, innovation and integrity. On behalf of the Board I would like to thank all members for your patience during this time and I hope you will join us in welcoming and supporting Tim in moving our sport forward.”

Tim will begin his role with Bowls NSW in early December 2022.

AUSSIE DESTINATIONS – Byng, NSW

Small rural town once known as 'Cornish Village' where William Tom, the first person to discover payable gold in Australia, is buried.

Today Byng is nothing more than an old Wesleyan (now Uniting) Church and a graveyard at the end of a dirt road in the middle of some particularly beautiful, rolling countryside south of Orange. There is one main reason to visit - apart from the obvious beauty of the district and the attractiveness of the sandstone church - and that is the grave of William Tom, the rarely acknowledged, but true, first person to discover payable gold in Australia. He, not the clever and self-publicising Edward Hargraves, was the man who started one of the greatest and most lucrative goldrushes in human history.

Location

Byng is located 246 km north-west of Sydney, 25 km south-east of Orange (18 km from the highway on dirt road) and 44 km west of Bathurst.

Origin of Name

Byng was originally named 'Cornish Settlement' because of the large number of Cornish immigrants who settled the area. The town name was changed to Byng. It was renamed after Lieutenant General Sir Julian Byng later Field Marshal Julian Hedworth George Byng who was well known to Australians from his command as a column commander in the Boer War. In World War 1 he commanded the 3rd Cavalry Division in France then the Cavalry Corps. Following the landing at Suvla to help ANZAC Cove, Byng was sent out to command the British IX Corps in place of Stopford who had failed miserably. He supervised the withdrawal of both IX Corps and the ANZACs from Gallipoli.

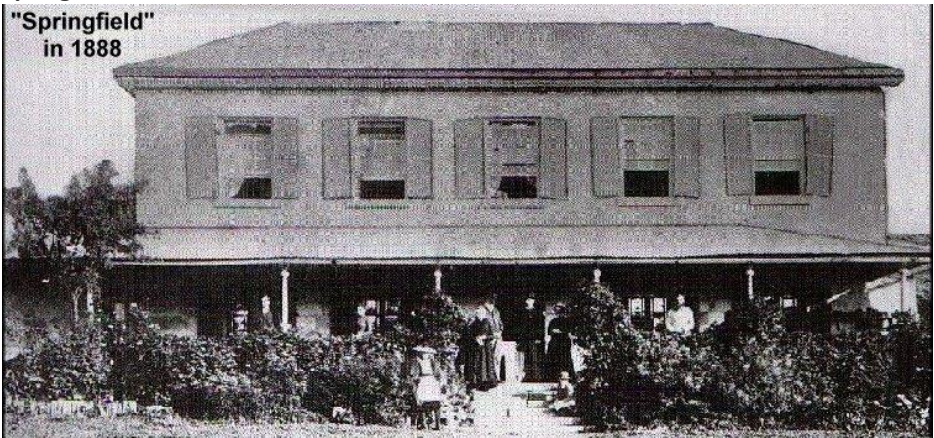

Wesleyan Methodist Church

The town's beautiful Wesleyan church dates back to 1873. The church replaced a small rubble building which was constructed in 1842 at Bethel Rock and used by the local Cornish residents. Many of the stones from the original church were used in the construction of the 1873 church which, when it was completed, had a congregation of around 30 people. It was restored as part of a Bicentennial grant in 1988.

Springfield

in 1888

Now a private home and not open to the public, Springfield is a symbol of the Cornish occupation of the area. It was completed in 1854 and was the home of William Tom, a parson in the Wesleyan church and a land owner. It is a two-storey Georgian mansion with thick stone walls, a full-length front veranda and an awning supported by white pillars. The house is positioned on a hill overlooking Sheep Station Creek and surrounded by mature gardens planted with European trees and shrubs. A distinctive Cornish touch are the three circular stones set in the front veranda which are inscribed "Caed mile failte" - Gaelic for "One Hundred Thousand Welcomes".

Cemetery

The cemetery is located opposite the church and contains the grave (near the road) of Parson William Tom, a Cornish man who was responsible for the first payable gold discovery in Australia. In April, 1851 Tom spotted a 14-gram nugget near the intersection of the Summer Hill Creek and Lewis Ponds Creek. He, his brother James, and John Lister turned their attention to the adjacent creek bed, turning up 113 grams over the next three days, including a 55-gram nugget. They immediately informed Edward Hargraves who took the credit for the find which initiated the first Australian goldrush at Ophir. Such is the unfairness of history.

History.

- * In 1830 William Tom chose 640 acres in the district and called his property Springfield. The area's Celtic associations are also apparent in the three welcome stones on the porch of 'Springfield' homestead. Custom dictated that the host would stand on the top step, the guest on the bottom, and they would greet each other in the middle.
- * In the 1830s, following the lead of William Tom, other Cornishmen moved into the area - families with surnames like Lane, Grenfell, Pearse, Thomas, Oates and Paull settled in the district.
- * Bookanan, probably the oldest homestead in the area, was built in 1840 by John Glasson, a descendant of George Hawke.
- * In 1841 George Hawke introduced cherries, plums and apples to the area. These fruit trees at the 'Pendarves' estate became the genesis of Orange's fruit industry.
- * In 1842 the first Wesleyan Church was built in Byng. It was the first non-conformist church west of the Blue Mountains.
- * In 1852 the Government Surveyor submitted a report for the establishment of a reserve in the Parish of Byng.
- * In 1854 the village reserve was established and the first allotments were surveyed.
- * By 1856 the village is established as a few scattered houses in the valley.
- * In 1873 the Wesleyan Church is completed.
- * In 1885 the village was officially proclaimed between Lewis Ponds Creek and Sheep Station Creek.

In October 1962, some photographs taken by U-2 planes reveal that Russians are installing nuclear weapons in Cuba to wipe out south and east United States areas. President Kennedy and his advisers have to plan a counterattack to stop the Soviets: Kennedy wants to prove to be strong enough to avoid blackmails, while the Pentagon prepares military troops to invade Cuba. Kennedy is reluctant to the idea of invading the island, as the action would push the Soviets towards Europe. Will it be possible to avoid a nuclear conflict without invading Cuba?

JOKE OF THE WEEK "SPAGHETTI"

For several years, a man had been having an affair with an Italian woman. One night, she confided to him that she was pregnant.

Not wanting to ruin his reputation or his marriage, he paid her a large sum of money if she would go back to Italy to secretly have the child.

Also, if she stayed in Italy to raise the child, he would provide child support until the child turned 18.

She agreed, but asked how he would know when the baby was born.

To keep it discrete, he told her to simply mail him a postcard, and write "Spaghetti" on the back when the child was born.

He would then arrange for the Child Support Payments to begin.

One day, about 8 months later, he came home to his confused wife.

"Honey," she said, "You received a very strange postcard today."

"Oh, just give it to me and I'll explain it later," he said.

The wife obeyed and watched as her husband read the card, turned white, and fainted.

On the card was written:

Spaghetti, Spaghetti, Spaghetti, Spaghetti, Spaghetti.

Three with meatballs, two without.

Send extra sauce!

Riddle: It was the same man, Grover Cleveland, who served tow non-consecutive terms.
