ROHAN PERFORMS ADMIRABLY AT STATE LEVEL IN THE ROOKIES

Rohan Marshall was one of sixteen of the best rookie bowlers in New South Wales vying for the title of NSW Rookie of the Year at Raymond Terrace last Sunday.

Playing on an unfamiliar synthetic green Rohan was in a strong section of four sections competing in a round robin series. The green was running at 16 seconds with both hands drawing evenly and true.

Rohan had a particularly strong first game against John Clark of Gunnedah (as evidenced by the live stream of Bowls NSW) where he maintained the upper hand throughout running away to a 17:8 win.

His next match against Shaun O’Toole of Kurri Kurri was much tougher and he was unable to replicate his fine first round performance losing 4:17.

His next match was another tough one where he came up against Peter Keatley of Malua Bay, the ultimate winner of the competition, going down 6:17

Congratulations and well done Rohan.

Results:

PETER KEATLEY WINS ROOKIE SINGLES STATE FINAL

BY BILLY JOHNSON

Peter Keatley (Malua Bay) is the 2022-23 Rookie Singles State Champion, beating Michael Winter (Camden) in a high-quality final. Despite the 17-5 score line, both players were in great touch, drawing magnificently on the undercover Raymond Terrace surface. Keatley was in a ruthless mood, drawing shot after shot and placing incredible pressure on Winter. There were moments of brilliance from Winter, but the Camden Rams representative couldn’t answer all the challenges thrown down by Keatley, who jumped away to an early lead and never let up on the way to victory.

Both finalists went through their sections unbeaten, recording solid wins across their three rounds. Keatley boasted an impressive +28 shot margin from his three matches, while Winter amassed +14 shots from his three victories. Their semi-final clashes were both classics, each going down to the wire.

Winter came up against Dan Scanlan (Engadine), who was in fine form. Scanlan jumped out to an early lead, before Winter closed the gap and eventually took a slender lead 13-12. Both players exchanged shots consistently, Winter often drawing close only to see Scanlan trail the jack or sit out the shot bowl with supreme accuracy. At 15-13 up, Winter was holding another count of two, and Scanlan looked to be on the perfect line yet again to trail the jack away. Unfortunately for the Engadine Cougar, his bowl only clipped the jack, tucking it closer to Winter's shot bowl. Winter held one with one to play, and delicately drew close enough to secure a 17-13 win and his passage to the final.

Keatley was quick out of the blocks against recently crowned Rookie State Pairs Champion Rick Lucey (Cabra-Vale), leading 12-5 off the back of some clinical draw bowling. Lucey, realising he needed to change the flow of the match, played a slightly more aggressive game, and it paid immediate dividends. Lucey led 13-12, and looked to be running away with the game, but Keatley had other ideas. He stuck firm to his draw game – a clear strength for the Malua Bay representative – and got over the line 17-15, drawing within inches of the jack with what would be his last bowl of the match.

It may have been that confidence boost that pushed Keatley to new heights in the final. Whatever it was, it worked for Keatley and left him almost speechless when accepting his winners' medal. Winter was gracious in defeat, complimenting his opposition on the incredible bowls he played in the final. Winter should also be proud of his efforts, as he displayed ability and temperament well beyond his few years in the sport as a rookie – a bright future ahead in the sport for the young Camden Ram!

Earlier in the afternoon, the Mick Bell Award was presented to Susie Simmons (Bathurst City). The award is presented to the player that best embodies the spirit and sportsmanship of the Rookies event. We were fortunate enough to have the man himself, Mick Bell, at Raymond Terrace to watch the event, and he was in complete agreement that Susie Simmons was a worthy recipient, presenting the award to her himself.

Congratulations to Peter, Michael, Susie and all the Rookie qualifiers who played over the weekend. The Rookies is a key event on the Bowls NSW calendar, and we look forward to running it again – bigger and better than ever!

QUALITY MATCHES WERE CENTRE STAGE IN MAJOR SINGLES

Three quality matches were played last week in the Major Singles.

Rookie Deon Van Niekerk had a strong win over Phil Wade. Deon led until end 17 when Phil packed in 5 shots in 2 ends to lead 16:12, however, this spurred Deon on and he won 9 of the next 13 ends to book his place in the quarter finals against either Ole Hostrup or Greg Moon.

Another good match that slipped under the guard saw John Lloyd battle rookie Matt Lake. For 16 ends Matt put pressure on John with ends squared at 8 apiece for John to lead marginally by 14:12. John's experience then kicked in with 7 shots in 4 consecutive ends to lead 21:12 and from this point he was always going to be hard to catch. And, so it proved with John winning 25:15 over a steadfast Matt.

Sunday saw in-form players Chris Sinclair and Greg Scott battle it out for a semi-final spot. A note shows that Chris won the battle 25: 04, however, no details are available at this time.

MINOR SINGLES ROUND ONE REPORT

Matt Lake advanced to the semi-finals of the Minor Singles with a strong win over short-term bowler Maria Brouggy. Maria played some solid bowls, however, Matt's experience was always going to be a difficult task for a new bowler to overcome.

Stalwart Brian Paxton rolled bowls against up and coming rookie Simon Kinsman. A sense of contentment saw a wry grin crease the face of the wily Brian as he raced to a 24:9 lead winning 14 of the first 20 ends. Stop! Simon mused – how was he going to deal with the crafty critter? Brian by limiting Simon to 1 of any end he won would ensure that he had to win 14 ends – a massive task. Simon then won 7 consecutive ends before Brian belatedly landed the coup de grace to roll onto the quarter finals. A ‘tickled pink’ Brian exclaimed that he “did it for the oldies”!

An energized David Lloyd had his first competition victory with a hard-fought win over new-comer Steve Brouggy in the second round (having a bye in the first round). Steve managed to win 5 of the last 7 end for 6 points, however, David's 2 ends yielded 7 points for him to claim the match 28:18.

Glenn Boardman was in sparkling form in his second round clash with rookie Howard Lee. Howard, a promising 1st year bowler, unfortunately caught Glenn at the top of his game. Glenn will play Mark Burrough for a place in the semi-finals.

BEER PRICES TO INCREASE

The price of beer is set to rise yet again, with the tax raised by the ATO.

From February 1, the cost of draught, as well as packaged beer, will increase significantly, with the excise increasing by 3.7 per cent which comes on top of a 4 per cent increase in August 2022.

The tax on beer is tied to inflation, and rises every six months.

The current taxes mean Australians pay more in beer tax than every other nation, save for Japan, Finland and Norway.

Club prices will rise on Monday 13th February 2023:

	Draught beer	Schooner	Middy	Jug
Victoria Bitter		$7.40	$5.20	$21.00
Carlton Dry		$7.40	$5.20	$21.00
Reschs		$7.40	$5.20	$21.00

OZ DESTINATIONS – Humpty Doo, NT

Town on the road to Kakadu - now almost a commuter suburb for Darwin

Humpty Doo, with a population of over 5,000 and a location only 38 km from the centre of Darwin, has effectively become a commuter town on the road to Kakadu National Park. Once known for its attempt to turn the tropical north into a verdant garden for fruit and vegetables, it is now a combination of market gardening (mostly for Darwin), commercial agriculture and tourism for visitors travelling to Kakadu.

Location

Humpty Doo lies 38 km south-east from Darwin on the Arnhem Highway.

Origin of Name

The town takes its name from a station (property) in the area which was named "Umpity Doo". No one knows why the station was given that name. 'Humpty doo', probably coming from 'Humpty Dumpty', was an expression in Australian vernacular meaning "upside down" and there is a suggestion that there was a Woolna Aboriginal word, "undid" meaning "resting place" but no one is certain.

Big Boxing Croc

As Humpty Doo has evolved into a commuter town for people who work in Darwin, the Big Boxing Croc has become a very identifiable icon. It stands 13 metres high, wears a pair of red boxing gloves, and was inspired by the "Boxing Kangaroo" logo used in Australia's successful 1983 bid for the America's Cup. At the time it was horrendously expensive. The crocodile was the brainchild of Marshall Brentnall who was running the Humpty Doo Bush Shop. In 1987 he commissioned a Sydney company to build the Big Boxing Croc out of fibreglass. The challenge was to build something that was strong enough to stand the full savagery of tropical cyclones. This may explain why the big croc cost a staggering $137,000.

Fogg Dam Conservation Reserve

Located 22 km along the Arnhem Highway is a turnoff to Fogg Dam (it is a further 7 km to the north). The dam was constructed in the 1950s as part of the Humpty Doo rice project and when the project failed it became a bird sanctuary, particularly during the dry season. Not surprisingly the birds had already started to use the dam. Access is across the low dam wall which can be blocked during heavy rains.

Window on the Wetlands Visitor Centre

Located 60 km from Darwin and perched on the top of Beatrice Hill on the Arnhem Highway, the Window on the Wetlands Visitor Centre offers a view over the Adelaide River wetlands from an elevated position on the top floor of the centre.

Humpty Doo Uniting Church

Located off the Arnhem Highway at 15 Challenor Circuit, the Humpty Doo Living Water Uniting Church is a comment on the temperature and humidity of the area: it is an unusual open-air church without walls.

Adelaide River Jumping Crocodile Cruises

For over 25 years Adelaide River Cruises, which are located 30 km east of Humpty Doo on the Arnhem Highway, have been offering tours up and down the Adelaide River from near the bridge where the highway crosses the Adelaide River. The tours, which operate four times a day between May and November and carry only 30 people, have become famous for the "Jumping Crocodiles". The crew feed the crocodiles and the crocodiles have become used to this free feed and will actually swim out to the boat. The crocs jump (they have been known to lift themselves right out of the water) for pieces of meat which are lowered on rods from the side of the boat.

The Adelaide River at this point is a typical tidal river and crocodiles abound on its muddy shores. As well it is common to see buffalos, jabirus, sea eagles, kites, snakes and a variety of other wildlife during the tour.

History

- * The first European into the area was Boyle Travers Finniss who explored the Adelaide River area in 1864.
- * By 1869 George Goyder had subdivided the land around Humpty Doo into parcels of 10 square miles (2,590 ha).
- * In the 1870s and 1880s the German botanist Dr. Maurice Holtze carried out experiments in Darwin exploring the region's ability to grow tropical crops.
- * By the 1880s Chinese farmers, serving the Chinese miners on the Pine Creek goldfields to the south, were growing rice around Humpty Doo.
- * By 1910 the settlement was known as Umpity Doo.
- * In 1954, after considerable CSIRO experimentation, a joint Australia-US company known as Territory Rice Ltd was established. It planned to irrigate the plain of the Adelaide River and produce a commercial rice crop.
- * In the mid-1950s the RAAF Airfield Construction squadron built Fogg Dam to provide water for the Humpty Doo Rice project.
- * In 1955-56 Territory Rice Ltd received agricultural leases of 303,000 ha on the floodplain. It was a disaster.
- * By 1959 the rice paddy fields had been abandoned. That year Fogg Dam became a Bird Protection District.
- * In 1962 Territory Rice forfeited the land to the government.
- * In 1967 a general store was opened on the road to Kakadu.
- * In 1971 the Humpty Doo Hotel-Motel opened for business.

DID YOU KNOW: The Eskimo population was approximately 50,000 at the time of the first widespread contact with Europeans. An estimated 2,000 Siberian Eskimos lived near the Bering Strait, the Alaskan Eskimos numbered about 25,000, and the Central Eskimos (who inhabited what is now northern Canada) numbered about 10,000.

FUN FACT: Inuit (Eskimo) are not First Nations People. According to the Indigenous and Northern Affairs office of the Government of Canada First Nations are those peoples who historically lived in North America, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, below the Arctic. Inuit historically lived along the coastal edge and on the islands of Canada's far north. The Métis descend from the historical joining of First Nations members and Europeans.
