EDITION 312 – 12 APRIL 2022

ROLL BACK THE CLOCK

Your Club is taking a step towards curbing low physical activity rates among older Australians by encouraging them to “roll back the clock” through lawn bowls.

Roll Back The Clock is a Bowls Australia initiative, in partnership with Sport Australia, that aims to boost physical activity rates among Australians aged 65 and over through bowls, light exercise and education.

Presently, as little as 25-percent of Australians over-65 meet the Department of Health’s physical activity guidelines of 30 minutes of activity per day.

Health-related reasons, including physical and mental health, are the main barriers for older Australians participating in sport or physical activities and bowls is seen as a low-impact, socially-inclusive activity that can be enjoyed by individuals of all ages.

Roll Back The Clock programs incorporate a two-part activity lasting 30 minutes each, targeting both the body and mind through bowls, functional training, fitness and wellness education, and socialisation.

Sessions are adapted for individuals, with benefits ranging from enabling participants to perform activities of daily life more easily, to withstanding injuries and providing a sense of accomplishment and achievement.

In addition to the physical health benefits, engaging in physical activity and group sports for older Australians provides increasingly important opportunities for socialisation, peer-support, and conversation that reduces the possibility for loneliness related physical and mental illnesses.

Roll Back The Clock will be staged at the Club on Tuesdays and Thursday each week over 4 weeks, commencing on Tuesday 3 May 2022 between 1:30pm and 2:30pm. Details and booking form are on our website lanecovebowls.com.au

“All of us who took part absolutely loved it. When it finished we didn’t know if it would be coming back, so we were looking at how we could keep it going. Thankfully the club has gone on to run more which has been great,” McLaren Vale Roll Back the Clock participant Jenny Patterson said.

Trainer Wendy Collins said because of the club’s warmth to the Roll Back The Clock participants, they had some come back to play bowls.

Barry Lehmann helped organise the Roll Back The Clock programs at South Townsville. He said it has been “fantastic” for his club.

“There is now a core group of people who come back regularly who never would have played before,” he said.

“They seem to love it, and it’s great for us to have some new people around the club.

ROHAN PUT UP A GOOD FIGHT

Local champion, Rohan Marshall, put up a good fight against Zone 9 heavyweight bowler Steve Smith of Harbord succumbing 13-31 in a semi-final of the Zone 9 Champion of Club Champions. Congratulations Rohan on a great effort in reaching the semi-finals – no easy task and up there with the best performances by a Lane Cove bowler in any era.

Steve Smith was defeated 31-10 by Kenta Treacher of North Sydney in the final.

KEVIN AND SARAH BUSTLE THEIR WAY INTO HANDICAP PAIRS FINAL

Kevin Mulhall and Sarah Hobson did not need their handicap in steamrolling their way to a resounding win over Stuart Smith and Scott Bonthron in the 2nd semi-final of the Handicap Pairs.

Kevin and Sarah won 7 of the first 10 ends to lead comfortably 16-6 before Stuart and Scott kick-started a comeback with a 6 pointer on end 11 and closed the gap to a margin of 3 points (13-16) after end 12. This come-back was but a flurry as Kevin and Sarah piled on 16 points to their opponents 7 points in winning 7 of the last 9 ends.

Kevin and Sarah will meet Craig Marriott and David Madson in the not to be missed final where Sarah will hope to defend her title from this event last year, however, her opposing skip David has also form in this event being a 3 time winner (2016, 2017 & 2019).

LENA AND GRAHAM FIRST TO QUALIFY FOR SEMI-FINALS

Lena Manu and Graham Screen are first to qualify for the semi-finals of the 2021 edition of the Mixed Pairs with a hard fought 19-17 win over Meredith Collum and David Madson in the 3rd quarter final of the Mixed Pairs last Saturday. (Details of the game not available).

CONSISTENCY SINGLES FIRST ROUND ROLLS

In their 1st round clash Brian Paxton conceded Craig Marriott a 5-point start and the game was neck and neck for 14 ends with Craig leading narrowly 73-72.

From that point on Brian did not get a look in with Craig winning 12 and drawing 2 of the final 12 ends of the contest to gallop away 154-111.

The Zone 9 Match Committee further advised that the finals will be played next Wednesday 13th April at Belrose at the same times as previously advised.

LITTLE GIRL CONTINUES TO MAKE A BIG SPLASH

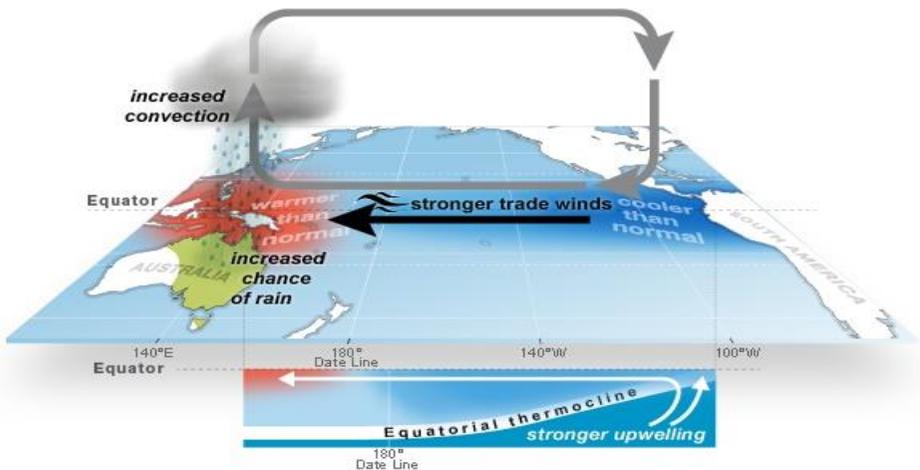

La Nina (meaning 'Little Girl' in Spanish) shows no sign of abating any time soon!

In the quarter ended 31 March 2022 of the 26 days available for social bowls (Wednesdays and Saturdays) 8 days (31%) were lost due to inclement weather conditions. The Club lost 1 day in January, 2 days in February and 5 days in March. Some of the other days had forbidding weather conditions limiting numbers on the greens. It was heartening to see bowlers turn out in support of the Club despite some miserable conditions.

The current La Nina event is not the most memorable where big events of the past include the 1973 to 1976 La Nina, which was the longest sustained period of La Nina on record.

1974 still stands as Australia's wettest year on record and 1973 to 1975 also made the top five.

Perhaps the most memorable event from these years was when Cyclone Wanda flooded Brisbane in the January of 1974.

El Niño–Southern Oscillation (ENSO): La Niña

More recently, 2010 to 2012 is notable for having two big La Niña summers in a row.

2010 and 2011 combined, resulted in the wettest 24 months on record.

Flooding was widespread from spring 2010 through to the end of summer 2011 — up and down the east coast.

Horror flash flooding washed away Grantham in South East Queensland's Lockyer Valley and Brisbane again went under water.

FEBRUARY - OUR BEST BEER DRINKING MONTH IN THE QUARTER

Possibly due to the lingering effects of Covid-19 our beer consumption for the quarter ended 31 March 2022 was down 6% on the corresponding period last year. Our highest consumption, by volume, in a month was for February.

Interestingly, Victoria Bitter was the most popular beer consumed with 44% followed by Carlton Dry and GNBC Super Crisp Lager both at 23%.

IN SAFE HANDS

Congratulations to Michelle and Janina for attaining their accreditation to “Provide cardiopulmonary resuscitation.” through St John Ambulance Australia. Well done to you both.

MEMBER’S BADGE DRAW

The Member’s Badge Draw has now reached $300. All you have to do to win is be at the Club next Wednesday between 4.30 and 5.00 PM and for your name to be drawn as the winner!

AUSSIE DESTINATIONS – Kameruka, NSW

Historic cheese town in the verdant valley between Candelo and Bega

There was a time when Kameruka was a thriving community driven by the fame of Kameruka cheese (now produced in Bega) and the elegance of both the Kameruka Homestead and the solitary grace of the Holy Trinity Church. Today it is a tiny village on Candelo Creek between Candelo and Bega.

Location

Kameruka is 443 km south of Sydney via the Princes Highway; 497 km via the Hume Highway, Canberra and Cooma; and 21 km south-west of Bega.

Origin of Name

It is claimed that "kameruka" is a Yuin word for "wait until I return".

Kameruka Homestead

Kameruka Homestead was built in 1845 by the Walker Brothers who had taken over the 200,000-acre property from the Imlay Brothers who had fallen on difficult times. By 1857 it was owned by the Tooth family (of beer fame) who continued to own and operate the farm until they sold it in 2007. It had remained in the family for 150 years and during that time it could claim that it was the oldest dairy stud in Australia.

Its early history is a bizarre mixture of Australian ingenuity and a desire to maintain English traditions in the Australian countryside. The Walker Brothers were known to keep a pack of hounds and, instead of foxes, to set the hounds free onto the local dingo population. The Walkers sold the property to the Twofold Bay Pastoral Association. Two members of the Association were members of the Tooth brewing family.

In 1854 James Manning was appointed as manager of the property and he introduced cheese making which saw the property prosper. He also encouraged the migration of German settlers who quickly involved themselves in the production of cheese.

By 1864 the property had been greatly reduced in size but the arrival of Robert Lucas-Tooth saw the property developed as a large rural estate. Robert Tooth took on an enormous building programme, most of which can still be seen today: Holy Trinity Church, three Cheese factories, the Clock Tower, Village Store and Butcher's shop, Village Hall, dairies and some thirty houses for the employees as well as schools for the children, golf course and cricket oval for the enjoyment of staff. With the planting of English and European trees the surrounding land around the 'village' was also designed in an English parkland style which included a truly tranquil oriental lake. Effectively Robert Tooth created the village of Kameruka. It was sold in 2007 and at the time of its sale it covered 3,337 acres.

Holy Trinity Church

The Tooth family have been described as Edmund Blackett's "great Sydney patrons". It was therefore quite natural that they would employ him to design a church for the Kameruka estate. Holy Trinity Church was consecrated in 1869. It is an impressive church which was effectively a private church for the Tooth family. The church's most impressive feature is its high-pitched roof. It contains memorials to the Tooth family and members of the family are buried in the cemetery which can be found behind the building. The high clock tower and gatehouse were erected in 1911. There is a war memorial to the local people who died in the World Wars near the church.

History

- The first settlers in the Kameruka district were the Imlay Brothers who arrived in 1834 and occupied a 200,000-acre cattle run.
- By the 1840s the Imlays were experiencing major financial problems and they handed their land over to Sydney merchants, the Walker Brothers, in 1844.
- In 1845 the Walkers built the four-roomed Georgian mansion known as Kameruka Homestead and engaged in dingo hunting with a pack of hounds and an Aborigine named Tom Doolin who became the master of the hounds.
- The Kameruka Estate was sold by the Walkers in 1852 to the Twofold Bay Pastoral Association - a joint venture of the Manning brothers, the Tooth brothers (members of the renowned Tooth Brewery family) and Thomas Sutcliffe Mort.
- From 1852-1860 the estate was run by James Manning who acted as the resident manager. Manning encouraged German immigrants to settle in the district. They were instrumental in the early production of Kameruka cheese.
- James Manning bought Kameruka in 1861 but floods, disease and the Land Act broke up the holdings. He lost 7,000 cattle to pneumonia.
- Manning sold Kameruka in 1862 to Frederick Tooth who, in turn, sold it to his nephew Robert Tooth in 1864.
- It was Robert who began to develop a largely self-contained community based on the English agricultural estate system.
- In 1888 a touring English XI played a 22-strong local side on the estate's cricket oval. The English won.
- By the 21st century the Kameruka Estate was owned by Tooth's granddaughter and great grandson who ran it with the help of share farmers.
- In 2007 the 1,300 ha Kameruka Estate was sold to English shipping magnate, Giles Pritchard-Gordon.
- In 2014, after the death of Pritchard-Gordon, his widow put the property up for sale.

JOKE OF THE WEEK: A jockey is about to enter a race on a new horse. The horse's trainer meets him before the race and says, "All you have to remember with this horse is that every time you approach a jump, you have to shout, 'ALLLEEE OOOOP!' really loudly in the horse's ear. Providing you do that, you'll be fine."

The jockey thinks the trainer is mad but promises to shout the command. The race begins and they approach the first hurdle. The jockey ignores the trainer's ridiculous advice and the horse crashes straight through the centre of the jump.

They carry on and approach the second hurdle. The jockey, somewhat embarrassed, whispers "Aleeee ooop" in the horse's ear. The same thing happens - the horse crashes straight through the centre of the jump.

At the third hurdle, the jockey thinks, "It's no good, I'll have to do it," and yells, "ALLLEEE OOOOP!" really loudly. Sure enough, the horse sails over the jump with no problems. This continues for the rest of the race, but due to the earlier problems the horse only finishes third.

The trainer is fuming and asks the jockey what went wrong. The jockey replies, "Nothing is wrong with me - it's this bloody horse. What is he - deaf or something?"

The trainer replies, "Deaf? Deaf?! He's not deaf. He's blind!"

Whitlam fights to last but...

FRASER PM SETS POLL DATE

By KEN HOOPER and DORIAN WILD

CANBERRA - Australia's new Prime Minister, Mr Fraser, will call a general election for December 13.

It is expected to be the dirtiest campaign in Australia's history.

The date for the election - for the Senate and House of Representatives - will probably be announced officially today.

Mr Fraser was sworn in as Australia's 22nd prime minister by the Governor-General, Sir John Kerr, at 1.30 pm yesterday.

Earlier in an unprecedented move Sir John had sacked Mr Whitlam as Prime Minister for being unable to solve the Budget crisis.

But even after his authority was withdrawn Mr Whitlam clung desperately to office and berated Sir John's action.

And the protests begin

Stunned

"Well may we say 'God save the Queen' because nothing can save the Governor-General," Mr Whitlam said.

"Malcolm Fraser will undoubtedly go down in Australian history as Kerr's cut," he said.

Sir John's decision rocked the nation and left the national capitol stunned.

Jubilant Liberal-Country Party politicians hailed the move as the only course open to solve the five-week Budget deadlock.

KING HIT

"Well, look who's dropped in!"

Party strategists immediately began planning a national election campaign and in Liberal and Country Party parliamentary offices champagne corks popped and beer flowed freely.

On the Labor side, the reaction was one of disbelief, shock and confusion.

As the word spread through Parliament House, Labor ministers began packing up their files and cleaning out their desk drawers.

They stopped only when the Liberal Party

Labor supporters march in Hunter St, City, last night in protest against the Whitlam Government's dismissal.

Federal secretary Mr T. Eagleton, told them they could carry on using their offices until an election was held.

One of Mr Fraser's first actions as Prime Minister was to instruct the Senate to pass the Budget to guarantee that the Government's bills will be paid.

In a nationally-televised press conference last night, Mr Fraser promised that his "careaker" government would not institute any new policies or laws or make any major sackings or appointments.

Looking confident and assured, Mr Fraser told reporters the Labor Government's prophecies of gloom and doom would not materialise.

HOW THEY REACTED

Hundreds of millions of dollars were added to the value of Australian industrial shares in the final hour's trading on the Stock Exchange yesterday.

The market valuation of Australia's biggest company, BHP, soared by $188 million within the hour.

A shocked Mr Bob Hawke, ACTU president, called on unions not to be provoked into precipitate action. But protesters demonstrated in street marches and seamen and waterside workers brought port to a virtual standstill throughout Australia.

A jubilant NSW Premier, Mr Lewis, predicted a landslide victory for Mr Fraser and other non-Labor premiers supported him. • SEE STORIES INSIDE.
